SHORT ITEMS of INTEREST to TIMES READERS.

J. E. Jones, of Parkville, Tenn., is spending a few days at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jones, west of town.

Carpenters Monday morning began tearing away the front of the Savings Bank building, preparatory to putting in a plate glass front.

Announcement was made from Lancaster Thursday that the capital stock of the Lancaster & Chester Railway has been increased from $50,000 to $500,000. Col. Leroy Springs is president and owner of the railroad.

Fort Mill friends of Mr. S. E. Boney, formerly a resident of this township, will be interested to know that he has quit the Charleston News and Courier and gone to Atlanta to accept a position with the Atlanta Georgian.

Senator Tillman will, it is said, take a hand in the South Carolina mileage book fight by filing a brief with the Interstate Commerce Commission. The hearing on the mileage book situation in this State is to be resumed this morning at 10 o'clock in the United States Court room in Columbia.

The Howard carnival company left Fort Mill Sunday morning for Albermarle, N. C., after showing for a week on the local ball lot. Visitors to the carnival stated that the patrons of the shows were very limited in number and it was doubted whether the company made expenses during its stay in Fort Mill.

The closing exercises of the Fort Mill colored graded school, of which A. L. White is the principal, will begin this evening at 8 o'clock in the old academy, on Academy street, and continue nightly, Sunday and Monday nights excepted, until Tuesday. An invitation is extended to the white people of the community to attend the exercises.

Charles Porter, a young negro of the township, was arrested by the local officers Saturday upon request of the Mecklenburg authorities, who claimed that Porter was wanted in North Carolina. The negro was held until Sunday afternoon when it developed that he was not the man wanted and he was released.

The county court house commission is this week advertising through the newspapers of the county the sale of $75,000 of bonds for the erection of a new courthouse in Yorkville. Sealed bids, accompanied by a certified check of $1,000, will be received by the commission up to noon of Thursday, May 15, when the sale of the bonds will be made.

The election held in Fort Mill Thursday resulted in 28 votes being cast for and five votes against the levying of a two mill school tax for the local graded and high school. That little interest was taken in the election was evidenced by the small vote cast. The money raised by the extra levy will be used to defray the operating expenses of the school.

Unseasonably cold weather, with frost in the Eastern States and moderately warm weather throughout the Gulf States, the great Central Valley and the Rocky Mountain region and the Plain States was predicted by national weather bureau for the first half of the present week. Warmer weather, with rain, was predicted for this section during the latter part of the week.

Hundreds of people from all parts of South Carolina, with many from adjoining States, are making arrangements to be in Rock Hill for the Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest on April 25th. The railroads of the State have granted a round trip rate of four cents per mile, one way, a twenty per cent discount from the usual rate. This reduced rate will be effective April 24th and the tickets will be good until midnight of April 26th.

The board of trustees of the Rock Hill public schools Monday morning sold to the New York Life Insurance Company the $75,000 issue of bonds for school purposes at a premium of $2,049.75. The board recently purchased for $10,000 a lot on which will be erected a new building for the high school department of the city schools, and in addition to this, several thousand dollars will be spent in improving the present school building.

The public generally will watch with interest the burning in the show window of Stewart & Culp of the big candle, which is to be lighted the morning of next Thursday, May 1. For several weeks past the firm has been conducting a guessing contest in connection with the burning of the candle, allowing one guess at the length of time the candle will burn with each 50-cent cash purchase, and allowing the winner a liberal supply of staple groceries. Quite a large number of guesses have been filed, the time guessed ranging anywhere from a few hours to several weeks.
